SUPER HELPERS IN SUPERMARKET

A STORY OF ANSA, MADHAV AND JAYANTH

Thank you for choosing this book. This is my second book made on a computer. I love to read books and make books. I got the confidence to make this book from the old books that I made with papers. A computer software helped me to draw the comics.

It was so fun to make this, and I hope you have more fun reading this.

Introductions

Ansa

I like
my uncle's
farmhouse! it is so
nice to play here.

Who's that with a suitcase running out of the farmhouse? I haven't seen him here before!

Let me
take a photo of him so that I can show to my uncle
later.

a few minutes later

Ansa! do you know this? I got robbed and someone stole my suitcase! I have important work documents in it.

I took a photo of a suspicious guy. Is it him?

it is
him! Let me
tell the police.

Thanks
to both of you,
Ansa and the officer!

Ansa,
thanks for
helping us with the
investigation!

Most
welcome!
Happy to

Madhav

I love
running like this
and all the adventures!

A cartoon illustration of a superhero with dark skin, wearing a white suit with black accents and a long white cape, running on a paved path. The superhero is looking back over his shoulder with a determined expression. In the background, there is a green lawn, a chain-link fence, and a dense line of green trees. A wooden bench is visible on the left. A basketball hoop with a red rim and backboard is positioned behind the superhero. A large, white, cloud-shaped thought bubble originates from the superhero's head, containing the text 'I love running like this and all the adventures!'. The sky is light blue with soft white clouds. A large green leafy branch hangs from the top right corner. Small white clouds of dust or motion lines are visible on the path behind the superhero's feet.

Who's
that sad kid,
all alone?

The illustration shows a boy in a white superhero suit with a cape and a camera on his chest running towards the right. He has a concerned expression. In the center, a child in a brown dog costume is sitting on a large log, crying with tears visible. An axe is stuck into the log next to the child. The background features rolling green hills, a blue sky with light clouds, and a palm tree on the left. The artist's signature is in the bottom right corner.

Who
are you? why
are you
crying?

We came for a picnic and my parents lost
their way.
Now, how will I
go home
without them?

Wwwwwww

Ha Ha !
Don't worry. Let me help you get your parents back!

Ok !
Thank
you.

Tell
me your parent's phone number. I will call them.

9...2...3...4

Why is it so hot? Hosur summers have never been this hot.

Oh! All
the trees are cut
down, that may be the reason for the hot
weather!

I hope
the weather
cools down
soon.

a few weeks later

1 year later

Jayanth.
